How was I to know you'd ever leave
How was I to know you cared for me
When every time I looked at you
You acted like I was a fool
How was I to know the truth

With all the times you ran away
I never thought that you would say
"I'm the one who's lonely now"
And all the times I never said "I love you"
Now you're in the bed with somebody and everyone else

How was I to know that I was wrong
When I was talking during your favorite song
How was I to know that I was right
When I caught you in your lies the other night

With all the times you ran away
I never thought that you would say
"I'm the one who's lonely now"
And all the times I never said "I love you"
Now you're in the bed with somebody and everyone else

Everyone, yeah
Everyone, yeah
Everyone, yeah
with somebody and everyone else

But somehow I know
That we're gonna be alright
Somehow I know
That we're gonna be fine

How was I to know that I was wrong
When I was talking during your favorite song

With all the times you ran away
I never thought that you would say
"I'm the one who's lonely now"
And all the times I never said "I love you"
Now you're in the bed with somebody and everyone else

Everyone, yeah
Everyone, yeah
Everyone, yeah
with somebody and everyone else

Everyone, yeah
Everyone, yeah
Everyone, yeah
with somebody and everyone else
