

This Generation

Sonicflood

This generation worships You
This generation seeks Your face
This generation kneels before You
This generation adores You

This is a call to worship
This is a call to sing
This is a call to fall down on our knees
Before the risen King

This is a call to shout out
This is a call to praise
This is a call to lift our hearts
And hands and voices

Lift, our songs of praise
In every town, in every nation
The kingdom comes this generation

Praise, our songs of suffering
Make every heart a new creation
Come into this generation

This generation worships You
This generation seeks Your face
This generation kneels before You
This generation adores You

This is a call to worship
This is a call to sing
This is a call to fall down on our knees
Before the risen King

This is a call to shout out
This is a call to praise
This is a call to lift our hearts
And hands and voices

Lift, our songs of praise
In every town, in every nation
The kingdom comes this generation

Praise, our songs of suffering
Make every heart a new creation
Come into this generation

This generation worships You
This generation seeks Your face
This generation worships You
This generation seeks Your face

This generation worships You
This generation seeks Your face
This generation worships You
This generation adores You