You Never Can Tell With Friends

Supertramp

Yes I've been waiting, but you just don't come around You've been dropping in on, everyone all over town Say what you like, but you just don't know your place And everywhere we go, people seem to know your face

You've been checkin' out the scene, every single night Never knowing where you've been, you say it's alright I placed all my faith in you, then you let me down Everything I say is true, but you don't hear a sound Yeh you ought to be ashamed, but you don't accept the blame

They said it was too late, for your love
They said it was too late, you're gonna go
They said it was too late, for your love
They said it was too late, you've gotta go

You never can tell with friends
You never can tell with, you never can tell with

You never can...

Yes every now and then, my mind turns things around And I believe it's true, that our love can still be found Just one thing I care about, from sea to shining sea
And you know that's the love you give, the love you give to me

You've been checking out the scene...

They said it was too late...

You never can tell...
