

Rhythm Amongst The Chaos

Terror

So many miles, I've become part of the road.
Through every city, crossed every boarder.
We roam and we roam, it's all we know.
And I hear these streets, they talk to me.
Through all their pain and broken dreams.
In all of you I've found my inner peace.

I'm just living my own life, my own way.
The truth's inside all of you.
The lost, the beaten, the broken, lead astray.

The late nights that turn to endless days.
The energy, the sacrifice.
It's true freedom that they could never see.

There's rhythm amongst the chaos.
The energy's inside of you.
Rhythm amongst the chaos.
Seek the truth.
