

Harder To Stand

The Briggs

You don't know what to do
You're sitting there and you're all alone
You've taken everyone for granted now
You've got no place to call your home

Open up this cut again
So it can remind you of the pain
That won't change the way you feel
When it goes away you bring it back again

It may be harder to stand than to fall
It's so easy to be nowhere
When you're nothing at all
Keep digging deeper in this hole
'Til you cannot turn to anyone at all

Blaming everyone is so easy to do
And your shadow never seems to move
This scenery has got to change now
I don't really think it's good for you

You're scratching at your bandages
Never letting them heal the scars
Is misery your new best friend,
Or have you forgotten who you really are?
