

On the Radio

The Concretes

I must say it was love from the start when you gave me a tune to sing
But I guess you'll never know 'cause some things are meant to stay unrevealed

I heard a song on the radio and it was sung for your ears only

When you're lost though you know all directions by heart take a look what's behind the scene There are hills and trees to be climbed when you know someone awaits your return
