

Amplifier

The dB's

Danny went home and killed himself last night
She'd taken everything, she'd taken everything
Danny went home and killed himself last night
She'd taken everything, she'd taken everything

She took his cash, she took his checks
She took the soda pop, there was nothing left
She took the love letters out of his desk

Danny went home and killed himself last night
She'd taken everything, she'd taken everything
Danny went home and killed himself last night
She'd taken everything, she'd taken everything

She took his car, she took his bike
She took everything she thought he liked
And what she couldn't take, she found a way to break
She left his amplifier

An amplifier is just wood and wire
And wire and wood don't do any good when
Your heart is blazing like a wildfire
And all you've got to show for it's an
Amplifier
Amplifier

She took his gun, she took his knife
He took his drugs, they took his life
She took it all in one big haul
She left his amplifier

Danny went home and killed himself last night