Bad Gadjit

The Gadjits

Well I'm so lonely that I really think that I could
Lay down and take a deep breath and die.
But instead I cry myself to sleep and think as I do,
"Zach, kiss your sweet ass goodbye."
When everything was going beautiful
And nothing stood in my way
I had to go along and throw that all away
And when the people tell me,
"Zach, kid, you better get your shit together"
And I wonder if I will I don't think that I'll ever.

(chorus)
Na na na na oh yeah, you're so bad
Zach, you're such a fucking bonehead, kid
You get what you deserve and I'm glad

Sometimes I really wanna pack a bag and get out of town
Because I finally felt the feeling to be free.
I want a big city life and a big city girl
And I'd like to take all of my friends with me.
It's these big-shot, insecure people we have
Who we give a right to hold a gun and a badge.
Tell me what to do and I'll tell you right back,
So sick and fucking tired of always picking up your slack.

(chorus)

Don't tell me what to do I'm gonna walk right over you
Cause I'm so lonely that I really wish that I could lay down
And take a deep breath and die
But instead I cry myself to sleep and think as I do
"Zach, kiss your sweet ass goodbye."
When everything was going beautiful and nothing stood in my way
I had to go along now and throw that all away.
And when the people tell me "Zach, kid, you better get your shit together"
And I wonder if I will, I don't think that I'll ever.
