My Scream

The Ocean Blue

I bought all the lines you sold me dear, and you know I spoke them well I wore all the clothes you brought me dear, and you know I wore them well I don't want to scream but it's the saddest scene I've ever seen before today

I walked through the sets you placed on stage, and you know I strode through tall I watched as you ripped them all to shreds, and you know I miss them all I don't want to scream but it's the saddest scene I've ever seen before today

locked up in my soul locked up in my heart

I don't want to scream but its the saddest scene I've ever seen before and if you stop and really think what I mean you'd see that I was better than before My Scream