

One Horse Town

The Thrills

Yeah you're burning
Oh you're burning
My ears with your travelling tales
But my in-laws
Oh baby, my in-laws
Well they're trying to tie a young man down

Oh, I never should have settled down
Hanging around in a one horse town
When everyone starts sleeping around
Well I never should have settled down
Hanging around in a one horse town
When everyone starts sleeping around

But this feeling
Oh that I'm feeling
Well you're praying at her, tear her heart

So this evening
Oh baby I'm leaving
On a one way ticket tonight

Well I never should have settled down
Hanging around in a one horse town
When everyone starts sleeping around
Well I never should have settled down
Hanging around in a one horse town
When everyone starts sleeping around

Well my friends they don't go settled down
Hanging around in a one horse town
When everyone starts sleeping around
Guess I never should have settled down
You see, hanging around in a one horse town
Does nothing for your state of mind
