Long Goodbye

I'm beginning to see the signs Calling for me from in between the lines I'm beginning to wonder how long Before I go under?

It's a long goodbye It's a sea too deep to dive But I will do it on my own if I have to I will go there all alone 'Cause I must pull through

I am falling in love again With the sky up above and the warm summer wind I am watching it change every day Our worlds rearrange

But it's a long goodbye It's a wall too high to climb But I will do it on my own if I have to I will go there all alone 'Cause I must break through

I will do it on my own if I have to I will go there all alone Just to get to you

But it's a long goodbye It's a guard too strong to fight It's a long goodbye It's a sea too deep too dive... Tina Dico
