

Taste the Hate

Tysondog

Failed in love and war
Just what you're looking for
Is that confusion in your eyes
Hide behind a joke
The words on which you choke
Betrayed by hesitation when you lie.

Death or glory
Afraid of the real world outside
In love with yourself
Or is that what you're trying to hide

Can you taste the hate?
Can you taste the hate?

Fools may come and go
Only the wise stay low
But then you wouldn't understand
You never look inside for fear of what you'll find
Where life and death
Walk hand in hand

You're clutching at stars
As you try to disguise what you lack
It's easy to see you need me like a knife in the back

Can you taste the hate?
Can you taste the hate?
