Some say I'm crazy, some say insane
Needing a shrink? There's nothing wrong with my brain
I act the part, play out the fool
It's part of the game, in this crew ther's no rules

They can read, they can scan the diaries of s madman They can read, they can scan the diaries of a madman

Everyone sworn to secrecy, find out who's the enemy The battle begins, they march to war No problems, no worries No one knows what they're fighting for

They can read, they can scan the diaries of s madman They can read, they can scan the diaries of a madman

Never to be seen, playing a plot And at times, simply lost the plot Think of the position, right on top, however high or low The shows… must… go… on

They can read, they can scan the diaries of s madman They can read, they can scan the diaries of a madman They can read, they can scan the diaries of s madman They can read, they can scan the diaries of a madman
