A call from the grave, fortress of hell Forsaken land where evils dwell Killing with violence, reach for your gun You cannot stop them it's time to run No life is found, grisly remains Zombified humans eating your brains Writhing in torment, screaming in pain Unspeakable horrors will drive you insane Time standing still They close in for the kill Left to your fate The hordes of hell await Trapped in a maze you must escape Standing in doorway a demonic shape Barons of hell spewing green fire Watching the blaze burn higher and higher You're out of bullets but onwards they come Your life is finished your time is done Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide Attacked by the thousands, now it's time to die Shotgun blast straight to the head Leave in your wake a trail of the dead Servant under hell's command Die among the lost and the damned Knee deep in the dead Death looming overhead Hell breaks loose on earth Demons unholy birth The earth plunged into night It's time for you to fight HELL ON EARTH!
