

Kid On My Shoulders

White Rabbits

Round up the cables
And take off the caps
It's a woman

Help him on calling the shots
Then hit the ground running

I said, "Boy, where are you hiding?"
And let the mind wander

Laugh off the stakes and
Let us lead the race
Then it's over

I said, "Boy, where are you hiding?"
I said, "Boy"
Well, he was the kid on my shoulders

Stand in the back of the room
Say, "Man, why you teasin'?"

"Cause if you just made one stylish attempt You'd be convincing"

I'd just say, "Boy, where are you hiding?"
I'd say, "Boy"

Now you were the kid on my shoulders
Just wait until we get older

We held our tongues throughout it
One day we'll laugh about it
